Breaking open the Word
14th Sunday in Ordinary Time

The establishment of God's reign is already an in-breaking of the final glory that will be ours—our "names are (already) written in heaven." References to the abundance of the end times are captured in the "harvest" metaphor Jesus uses.

Jesus looks at the harvest and sees abundance, fulfillment. Some of this abundance and fulfillment is surely realized in our own taking up of Jesus' mission to bring peace, to heal, and to dispel evil.

The challenge of the gospel is that we don't get so lost in doing Jesus' mission that we forget being faithful disciples is in itself already an in-breaking of God's kingdom.

Living the paschal mystery means that we let go of even the responses others might give to our Gospel living and surrender ourselves to be laborers for the harvest of peace and Presence.

Fr. Lane K. Akiona ss.cc.

Statement on the Orlando shooting
‘There can be no place in our midst for hatred and bigotry’

“(The June 12) attack in Orlando has unmasked once again the evil face of hatred and bigotry in our society. It is an evil that must spur us to rededicate ourselves to fostering a true spirit of unity and reconciliation.

“... news accounts have clarified the fact that the gunman who attacked the gay and lesbian patrons of the club in Orlando targeted his victims specifically because of who they were. It is hard to comprehend what fueled such an intense bigotry in the heart of the gunman that could lead him to kill so recklessly and maliciously. It is a question for which we will never have a full answer. No matter what the reasons, the root for all of them was sheer hatred.

“How do we respond before such hate? At minimum, all Catholics must raise our voices against such hatred. There can be no place in our midst for hatred and bigotry against our brothers and sisters who experience same-sex attraction or for anyone who is marginalized by the larger society. The Lord Jesus extended his arms on the Cross to embrace all people who respond to His offer of salvation. Who are we to close our hearts to anyone for whom the Lord has offered an invitation to experience His saving life? As a society and a Church, we must do whatever we can to fight all hatred, bigotry and intolerance in all its forms.

“Another way to stand against such hatred can be realized in more simple ways. While we strive to create a larger world that is free from hatred, we often have many opportunities in our ordinary lives to break down the walls that divide us.

“How often have we chosen to do nothing rather than extend a word of welcome or kindness to someone whom we have avoided, precisely because they are different from us? How many times have we failed to correct a racist comment spoken by a family member or objected to a slur spoken by a friend or co-worker against someone who is gay or lesbian? Each of these lost occasions are also lost opportunities to invite the world to conversion, one person at a time.

“As we pray for those who died in Orlando, let us pray that we might have the courage to fight against all bigotry and prejudice wherever we may experience it.”

Bishop Joseph Caggiano, Diocese of Bridgeport

Daily Prayer

Last week we reflected about Jesus beginning his ministry. This week we take the next step by watching him call and send his Apostles. As we go through each day this week we can make an ongoing reflection on our call and mission. We can pray each morning to live the mission Jesus gives us, to be faithful in living the call. And we can be more focused on what Jesus said about sending us like sheep among wolves.

“Lord, there are so many ways that I have become a part of the values of the world around me. With your grace, I resolve to live more simply and to try to hear the cry of the poor. With your grace, I desire to be freed from the attachments that blind me, so that I might be guided by your Spirit in dismantling unjust social structures. Today, Jesus, I place my trust in you.”

Practicing this kind of prayer is very fulfilling and soon becomes a habit. We become more reflective as we grow in intimacy with our Lord, in the midst of our daily lives.

Meet Deacon Keith

Hello! My name is Deacon Keith Cabiles, I was ordained a permanent deacon for the Diocese of Honolulu on January 31, 2015. I am husband to Hazell and a proud daddy to Kacie (8) and Hailey (6).

I am a lifelong resident of Kalihi. After graduating from Damien Memorial School in 1996, I spent 15 years as a graphic designer before answering God’s call to discern about becoming a deacon. During my deacon formation, I volunteered and then worked in the Office of Worship for two years. I currently work in the Office of the Chancellor where I serve as the diocesan Archivist and statistics/records keeper. A big part of my job is to assist people with genealogy research, finding sacramental records dating back to the earliest days of Catholicism in Hawaii in the 1820s.

Before being reassigned here, I had the honor of serving as deacon in my home parish, St. Anthony Kalihi.

I wish to thank Fr. Lane and Deacon Andy, the staff, and all of you, who have already been so kind and welcoming to me as I visited occasionally this past year. Now that I am officially assigned to beautiful St. Augustine, I pray that I am able to worthily and humbly serve you, as we journey together, with and towards Christ.

Peace and God’s blessings to you!

Deacon Keith Cabiles

Fourth of July prayer

This week as we celebrate Independence Day may we always be reminded of our complete dependence upon God.

May our nation always look to God’s wisdom and mercy in all its deliberations and decisions.

May we be a people of peace and of blessing to others. Keep our nation and our leaders in your prayers, that we may always strive for peace and justice in our land and in our world.

Also keep in your prayers all who serve in our Armed Forces and risk their lives for our country and all those who remain in harm’s way.

And keep our nation in your prayers that we as a country may always rely on the promise that those who “hope in the Lord will renew their strength, they will soar on eagles’ wings; They will run and not grow weary, walk and not grow faint.” (Isaiah 40:31)
